Partners in Democracy

With local elections fast approaching the Salt Lake County Elections Division is recruiting several thousand poll workers to staff the polls on election days.

To help cope with the challenge, the county is introducing its program titled Partners in Democracy which is aimed at recruiting local businesses, non-profit organizations and individuals to encourage poll worker service. Each volunteer will receive a minimum $120 stipend, in addition to commendations from the mayor and publicity from the local media and the division's website.

All poll workers will be required to undergo training on the new voting equipment and procedures. Those wishing to sign up for the program or to learn more about poll worker service may call the Salt Lake County Elections Division at 468-3477 or look online at www.clerk.slco.org.
